• Frequently asked questions
As one of our students who studied abroad said, ‘The best year you spend at university could actually be the one you spend away from it…’

By spending time overseas you can:

- Enhance your overall knowledge and understanding of your subject.
- Develop your intercultural skills - valuable in a globalised employment market.
- Have the opportunity to widen your network of friends and future contacts.
- Increase your independence and self-confidence as you tackle challenges in a new environment.
‘I would say that my year abroad made me mature faster than I would have done if I had never left. I learnt so much about myself through meeting people that opened up my eyes, and showed me new experiences that I would definitely recommend to anyone.’

‘I honestly believe my year abroad was the best year of my life so far ... I had to adapt myself to a very different approach of studying. This I believe has improved my capabilities as a student by a great factor.’

‘In summary, I couldn’t recommend a year abroad enough. It was a definitive milestone in both my educational and personal development while still being an incredibly fun and rewarding year.’

‘Being alone on the other side of the world was at times of course a terrifying prospect. However, I now have the hindsight to know that it was also the greatest opportunity to learn how to overcome unfamiliar situations, make lifelong friendships and establish a new attitude.’

Quotes from RHUL students
Royal Holloway has two exchange schemes:

- Erasmus+ (for study abroad within the European Union)
- International Exchange (for study abroad outside the European Union)

You can only participate in one exchange. In addition, you must study abroad for the full academic year (unless you choose to take part in a Summer School).
Royal Holloway has a number of partner universities under the Erasmus+ scheme. If your department has an Erasmus+ agreement, then you have the possibility of studying at an overseas partner with which it is linked.

If you take part in the Erasmus+ scheme and complete the necessary documentary requirements, you are entitled to a small grant, the amount of which will change from year to year.

An Erasmus+ exchange can only be done for credit transfer, you cannot go on an additional year as an Erasmus+ student.

Please go to http://www.rhul.ac.uk/international/studyabroadandexchanges/erasmusexchange/partnerinstitutions.aspx to find out if your department has any Erasmus+ links.
Royal Holloway currently has exchange agreements with universities in Australia, Canada, China, Hong Kong, Japan, Korea, Mexico, New Zealand and the USA.

For these exchanges you can choose, with the approval of your department(s), to go on either an integral or an additional year.

Please note: if you are a student from the departments of Law, Media Arts*, Music or Psychology, you can only go on an International Exchange for an additional year. If you are studying Electronic Engineering, you must ask the department about any options which may be available to you.

* If you are studying the BA Film and Television Studies you can apply for an integral year.

Also, you can only go to China, Japan and Korea for an additional year.
RHUL students have the opportunity to either go to China, Korea or Mexico for the summer to attend a summer programme.

This could be for you if you want to go abroad but the idea of going for a full academic year is not what you are looking for.

You have to apply for a place at one of the summer programmes mentioned and you pay no tuition fees to Royal Holloway. However, you cannot transfer credit from summer school courses back to RHUL.

Please see the International Exchange brochure for further information.
No tuition fees paid to the host university.

Normally reduced or no fees paid to Royal Holloway.

However, students are liable for all living, travel and insurance costs during their time overseas.

If you are interested in studying abroad in the US or Japan, please be aware that if you require a student visa you will be required to show that you have funds of, on average, $19,000 or 960,000 JPY respectively at your disposal when you apply to the partner university.

If you are a Tier 4 visa holder, there may be costs. Further details will be available in the International Exchange brochure.

What will a year abroad cost?
Living costs
These costs will vary from country to country - research, research, research!
Do consider:
- travel both to and from the partner university
- any leisure travel that you wish to do
- settling in costs, phone calls, books and leisure activities
- insurance
- fluctuating exchange rates

Funding
Integral year
Student Finance normally continue funding. However, this may not be at the same level.

Additional year
Student Finance will not continue funding as you will have formally interrupted your studies. DO NOT rely on receiving funding from them.

What will a year abroad cost?
Founder’s & Bedford scholarships
If you are in receipt of either scholarship, unless you are going overseas as a compulsory part of your degree, you will not receive this funding whilst abroad. In order to receive the funding, a student must be liable for full variable tuition fees throughout their degree programme.

What happens once I’ve submitted my application?
If you are successful and obtain a place at one of our partner universities you will register with them. At the same time, you will still be an RHUL student.

Keep in touch with RHUL – essential if your year is integral as you must have all courses taken approved by your academic department.

Keep in touch with CeDAS - department carrying out some research on how far a year abroad helps students to develop intercultural skills.
What makes a good application? Detailed personal statement with a range of reasons for wanting to apply to study abroad, strong academic background, evidence of research, suitable study plan.

What courses will I study? Integral year students study the equivalent of their RHUL 2nd year courses, additional year students study courses of their choice.

Which partners can I apply for? See the International Exchange brochure.

How many Universities can I choose? A maximum of five.

How many places at each partner? Usually a maximum of 2 places. However at the University of California we have 6 places.

How will my grades be converted? RHUL approved grade conversion grids are used.
