

Royal Holloway University of London

Royal Holloway, University of London, is a truly multicultural institution. With almost a third of our students joining us from outside the UK, and alumni in 165 countries around the world, we are proud to be one of the most international universities in the UK.

Located in Egham, Surrey, just 40 minutes by train from central London and a 20 minute drive to Heathrow airport, our state-of-the-art campus spans 135 acres and has previously been voted the most beautiful campus in the United Kingdom.

The first Chinese student was admitted into the College in 1887, a year after its establishment. Since then, we have become one of most popular institutions in the UK for Chinese students, and developed strong partnerships with organisations and institutions across China, including Nanjing University of Aeronautics and Astronautics (NUAA), and the British Council China.

“My decision to study here was influenced by the university’s diversity and impressive number of international students and academics. All our lecturers are experts in their fields and never hesitate to help if I encounter problems. Throughout my course I have attended a number of high-profile public lectures organised by the school – these have helped me build my network and improve my employability skills.”
