Note that students in receipt of externally-funded scholarships or College scholarships originating with gifts or endowments from individuals/trustees are bound by the specific terms and conditions of those scholarships in precedence to general terms and conditions. Where applicable, details of scholarship-specific terms and condition are provided below.

The scholarship holder cannot be in receipt of more than one Royal Holloway scholarship, unless it is specifically stated in the terms and conditions that two specific scholarships can be held at the same time by the same person; the scholarship awardee will be able to hold a Royal Holloway scholarship along with an external award only if the value of both awards combined does not exceed the recipient’s tuition-fee liability. This clause only applies to scholarships that are offered as tuition fees waivers and does not relate to any cash awards.

2. List of undergraduate scholarships and scholarship-specific Terms and Conditions

2.1 Article 26 Scholarship
Royal Holloway is proud to work in partnership with the Helena Kennedy Foundation’s Article 26 project to promote access to Higher Education for students who have fled persecution and sought asylum in the UK. One scholarship is available each year to new eligible undergraduates in any subject.

2.1.1 Eligibility
To be considered for the Article 26 scholarship, students must:
- Be an asylum seeker, the child of an asylum seeker or hold Discretionary Leave to Remain
- Be ineligible to obtain funding from the Student Loan Company (tuition fee loans or maintenance loans)
- Hold an offer to study an undergraduate programme at Royal Holloway
- Submit a completed scholarship application form by the deadline

Applicants must be able to provide evidence that they have sought asylum on arrival in the UK and that their asylum application is under consideration by the Home Office. Students who have refugee status are not eligible for this scholarship.

The above applies unless:
- A student (or their parents or spouse/civil partner) is granted indefinite leave to enter/remain in the UK. OR
- A student becomes eligible to receive funding from the Student Loan Company (either tuition fee loan or maintenance loan). In these circumstances, they must inform the university immediately and the award will cease from the start of the next academic year, when they would be expected to apply for student finance instead.

2.1.2 Allocation
In addition to submitting a complete application form by the relevant deadline, a strong scholarship statement, positive referee's supporting statement and good interview are also required. Before starting their application, students are encouraged to read the Application Guidelines.

2.1.3 Payment
The scholarship is offered as a full tuition fee waiver available over three years of study at Royal Holloway. Students on a three year undergraduate degree who choose to spend their second year abroad will have any tuition fees owing to Royal Holloway waived by this scholarship. However, no additional cash award will be made in these circumstances.

Students on a four year undergraduate degree who spend their 3rd year on a study abroad placement will not receive any scholarship funding for that 3rd year. However, for the 4th year of the undergraduate degree, the full tuition fee waiver will apply.

2.2 Future Leaders Scholarships

Three scholarships are available, one per Faculty, for new undergraduate students with Home/EU fee status who have the potential to be one of the leaders of the next generation.

2.2.1 Eligibility
These scholarships are open to new undergraduate students with Home/EU fee status, with minimum expected or final grades at GCE A-level of AAA or equivalent and a strong scholarship statement. The strength of a candidate's previous academic background will be considered where final grades are not yet available. This will be assessed via the documents submitted as part of their degree programme application. Successful candidates will demonstrate outstanding leadership skills and these will be assessed via the scholarship statement.

2.2.2 Allocation
Students must submit a complete scholarship application form by the deadline, specified annually. The strength of a candidate’s previous academic background will also be considered. This will be assessed via the documents submitted as part of their degree application. Before starting their application, students are encouraged to read the Application Guidelines.

2.2.3 Payment
These scholarships are available as tuition fee waivers equivalent to the full annual Home/EU tuition fee over the first three years of study at Royal Holloway, unless a student spends a year abroad or on an industrial placement. In such cases, the tuition fee waiver will be applied in year 4 instead of year 3. For students on a four year programme with no industrial placement or a five year programme with an industrial placement, the scholarship will be paid in the first three years of the degree programme only.
In order to be eligible to receive this scholarship after year 1, an average academic grade of at least 60 per cent is normally required each year.

2.3 Reed Innovation Scholarship

One scholarship is available to new undergraduates, studying any subject, to celebrate and reward a student who is able to demonstrate outstanding and creative problem solving skills. This scholarship is sponsored by Sir Alec Reed.

2.3.1 Eligibility

Open to all Home, EU and international new undergraduate students, with minimum expected or final grades at GCE A-level of AAA or equivalent and a strong scholarship statement.

2.3.2 Allocation

Students must submit a complete scholarship application form by the deadline, specified annually. The strength of a candidate's previous academic background will also be considered. This will be assessed via the documents submitted as part of their degree application. Before starting their application, students are encouraged to read the Application Guidelines. Successful candidates will demonstrate outstanding innovation and creative problem solving skills. These will be assessed via the scholarship statement which must include details of three ideas the student admires of other entrepreneurs and three ideas of their own. The ideas might be inspired by, but are not restricted to, some of the following themes:

- Solving an artistic, scientific or technical problem in a new or unusual way
- A unique and distinctive solution to a problem faced by your school/college, club or community
- Creating a new group, organisation, institution or product that meets an important need.

Shortlisted applicants may be invited to interview by Sir Alec Reed for final decision-making on the scholarship award. Interviews will be conducted via Skype if the candidate is unable to travel to London.

2.3.3 Payment

These scholarships are offered as a cash award of £10,000 paid in the first year of a Royal Holloway degree. The award is paid in three instalments and will be paid into the successful student's bank account at the end of each academic term in December, March and June.

4  General Terms and Conditions applying to all competitive scholarships

These scholarships are open to applicants who wish to enrol as new undergraduate or postgraduate taught students at the College for the academic year 2018/19.

In order to apply for a scholarship,
- applicants must hold an offer of a place for the academic year 2018/19;
- anticipate meeting all the conditions associated with their offer in time to enrol at Royal Holloway in September 2018;

In order to confirm the acceptance of a scholarship,
- undergraduate applicants need to accept Royal Holloway as their firm choice through UCAS; postgraduate applicants need to accept their offer of a place through their applicant portal on Royal Holloway Direct;
- all applicants offered a scholarship must accept their scholarship offer by the date given in the scholarship offer communication. Acceptance will result in agreeing to these Terms and Conditions.

If either of the above conditions are not met within the required deadline, the offer of a scholarship shall be treated as withdrawn.

Payment and/or disbursement of scholarships vary by scholarship and details are provided in the Additional Terms and Conditions section of each individual award on the Royal Holloway Scholarships webpages. Payment and/or disbursement details are also included and confirmed in the formal scholarship offer.

Scholarships are awarded based on the information provided in the Scholarship Application Form. They are awarded for a set period of study as stated in the award communication and cannot normally be extended beyond this date. The offer of a scholarship will normally lapse should the student fail to enrol in the year for which the scholarship is first intended, or if a student suspends his or her studies, or if a student interrupts his or her studies.

Scholarship holders must normally be registered as full-time students at Royal Holloway. Should the status of the scholarship holder’s registration change for any reason (for example, as a result of a change in fee status), Royal Holloway reserves the right to reassess whether the scholarship holder is eligible for the scholarship. A change of this nature may result in the scholarship being withdrawn and the scholarship holder being required to repay some or all of the scholarship to Royal Holloway, or the value of the scholarship may be readjusted.

For scholarships where fee status is explicitly included within the eligibility criteria for an award, should the fee status of the scholarship holder change for any reason whilst holding this scholarship which results in the scholarship holder no longer meeting the fee status eligibility criterion, Royal Holloway reserves the right to withdraw the scholarship and, if determined to be appropriate, require the scholarship to be repaid either in part or in full.

In addition to the above, Royal Holloway reserves the right to withdraw a scholarship in part or in full under the circumstances set out below:
- if it is found that there are any false statements and deliberate errors or omissions made on the application form;
- if information comes to light subsequent to the scholarship being awarded and which should have been included on the application form which renders the scholarship holder ineligible for the specific scholarship;
- if the scholarship holder does not enrol at Royal Holloway by the latest registration date as specified in the Terms and Condition of Admission to Royal Holloway;
• if the scholarship holder does not enrol for the specific programme of study for which the scholarship has been awarded, they may become ineligible for the scholarship. The Scholarships Officer should be notified of any change in programme so that eligibility criteria can be checked.

4.1 Responsibilities
Scholars must satisfy these terms and conditions and any other conditions that may form part of their award:
• Scholarship holders may be required to participate in occasional promotional activities and should be willing to be interviewed, photographed and/or filmed for promotional purposes. This could include being featured on the Royal Holloway website and/or on social media. In these circumstances no additional payments will be made by Royal Holloway to the scholarship holder. If at any time you do not wish your photograph or any filming to be used for publicity purposes, please do inform us via the following email address: RHPS@rhul.ac.uk
• Scholars in receipt of Donor funded scholarships will be required to write a letter of thanks to the Donor and provide a summary of their experiences and future hopes at the end of their course. They will be asked to agree that Royal Holloway, University of London can share their grades with the Donor.

Complaints and Appeals Process

Royal Holloway is committed to a fair process in the allocation of its scholarships. It needs to be recognised that academic scholarships are highly competitive and that lack of success may be due to the level of competition rather than any specific weakness and consequently it may not be possible to advise scholarship candidates of any specific weaknesses in their applications.

The decision of the scholarship selection committee is final and scholarship applicants have no right of appeal against an academic decision not to offer a scholarship. There is no right of appeal if the offer of a scholarship is withdrawn as a result of a failure to comply with any of the Terms and Conditions set out above.

Should a prospective student to Royal Holloway who has applied for a scholarship applicant wish to lodge a complaint about the scholarship application process, the complaint should be sent in writing to the Assistant Director: Admissions and Applicant Services who can be contacted via the following email address: study@royalholloway.ac.uk

If the scholarship applicant is still dissatisfied after receiving a response from the Assistant Director: Admissions and Applicant Services, the scholarship applicant may lodge an appeal in writing to the Director of Student Recruitment within seven days of receiving the response from the Assistant Director.

The Director of Student Recruitment will investigate the matter and will provide a response within 15 working days of receiving the written request. Where a response is not possible in that timeframe, the Director of Student Recruitment will write to inform the applicant of the timescale for the receipt of a full response.

The decision of the Director of Student Recruitment shall be final. There is no appeals process if the scholarship is withdrawn as a result of failure to comply with any of the Terms and Conditions set out above.
