ABOUT US

Conductors' Collective is a society made up of students from across the university where we learn conducting skills together in a fun, relaxed, and creative environment. A MESSAGE FROM THE MANAGER

There really are no words to describe how honoured I am to be the manager of this society. This group means so much to me and to so many people here tonight. The idea for this concert first came up after our last performance and i've had the absolute joy of bringing it all together!

A massive thankyou to my incredible committee, every single person in this programme and endless support from friends and family.

A MESSAGE FROM THE COMMITTEE

We cannot thank you enough for coming and supporting us. As a student-led ensemble, people coming to our events is the best thing you can do to help us!

We're so very grateful to all those who have supported us in our musical journeys, whether that be family or friends - if that is you reading this, then you are amazing!

Have a safe journey back home, thank you again for coming . . .
