

Tips to dealing with noise in Halls

Living in Halls means you are all in close quarters, this means that any sound you make will carry and can be heard by others in your flat. Noise is quite common in halls of residence so whilst we do have rules in place - you can expect some level of noise. Here are our top tips:

1

Speak to your flatmates on what is acceptable. But always remember noise should be to a minimum after 11pm. Bass and subwoofer equipment are not permitted. When speaking on the phone, consider using hands free.

2

If there is noise, speak to your housemates. They might not realise they are being loud and often a conversation puts an end to it.

3

If it's out of hand or becoming a problem - call security at the time. This can be done anonymously. They will attend and deal with the incident. They provide us with a report which we can initiate misconduct proceedings against those individuals making a noise. They can be contacted on 01784 443063 24 hours a day 365 days of the year.
